Admission for U-M Transfer Applicants

At the University of Michigan Ross School of Business, we offer undergraduate students the opportunity to pursue a Bachelor of Business Administration degree that prepares you with a well-rounded understanding of core business concepts. In our top-ranked BBA program, you will learn to help create a better world through the power of business. You’ll develop critical thinking and business skills from top business minds, and you’ll integrate those skills with the liberal arts. You’ll explore our unique vision for leadership, have opportunities for hands-on learning, and have a chance to participate in global experiences. When you graduate, you’ll be more than ready to create your own future.

Admissions Criteria & Eligibility

While attending the University of Michigan, you may apply to Ross during your first or second year. The U-M Transfer application process is available to students who find an interest in business. Admission is available for dual degree students and students who have not previously considered business. We will enroll approximately 100 students through the U-M Transfer Admission. Priority consideration is given to students who have not previously received a Ross admission decision.

We conduct a holistic review of each application. When reviewing your application we look for:

• Outstanding academics
• Quality extracurricular activities that can include high school activities or those that demonstrate a commitment to the Michigan community
• Compelling application essays

Admission Requirements for Transfer Applicants
