LEADERSHIP IMPACT THROUGH INNOVATION

Design winning solutions for business challenges

Experience our design thinking methodology, Customer-Centric Design, in one of our most hands-on programs. Using your own design challenge or initiative as your case for the week, our world-renown faculty will help you prepare for and conduct customer interviews, create a prototype or solution, and gather feedback on it. You'll then learn how to build support for implementation and develop an action plan. Register as an individual, or bring 5-7 people involved in the same initiative and you can work together through the week as a team.

INDIVIDUAL BENEFITS

- Learn and apply our design thinking methodology
- Develop a prototype or solution and an implementation plan for your design challenge or initiative
- Understand ways to build momentum behind your project and implementation plan

ORGANIZATIONAL BENEFITS

- Apply design thinking to improve your company's bottom line
- Master a new framework to accelerate your organization's innovation initiatives
- Leverage the psychological drivers that lead to the adoption of new and useful ideas

WHO SHOULD ATTEND:

- Project leaders or program managers
- Teams or individuals in charge of critical initiatives
- Managers or key executives leading change or responsible for creating a culture of innovation

Typical areas include:

- Innovation
- Business Strategy
- Operations and Project Management
- New Product Development/R&D
