LEADING HIGH-PERFORMING TEAMS

Leverage the power of your most valuable resource

Based on more than four decades of groundbreaking research on high-performing teams, this lively three-day program will arm you to create, inspire, and lead one of your organization’s most valuable resources — teams.

During this program, you and other aspiring leaders will experience leadership and team assessments, group discussions, video case studies, simulations, and real-life examples of best team leadership practices. Together with a group of leaders from around the globe, you’ll emerge with a deep understanding of your “roles” as a team leader and when and how to employ each one. You’ll learn proven strategies and techniques for driving team decisions and how to influence internal and external stakeholders so your teams drive organizational results.

INDIVIDUAL BENEFITS

• Deeper knowledge of how your personal styles, strengths, and weaknesses affect your team’s ability to achieve important goals
• A step-by-step process for coaching individuals and teams
• Strategies for building external relationships that help the team achieve faster results
• A deeper understanding of the most common dysfunctions that derail teams and strategies for avoiding these scenarios
• A post-program private coaching session to follow up on your progress in creating a high-performing team

ORGANIZATIONAL BENEFITS

• Team leaders who can take their teams to the next level of performance, including in complex and high-stakes situations
• A valuable blueprint for creating a culture of agile, aligned, and connected teams that are able to get better results in less time using fewer resources
• Frameworks, strategies, and tools that team leaders can teach to others throughout the organization

“Great course for both personal and professional life, I strongly recommend.”

—Jim Peterson, BASF, Marketing Manager

PROGRAM STRUCTURE
This intense two-day program draws leaders from a wide variety of sectors and geographies. Our world-renowned faculty employ a variety of activities including leadership self-assessments, diagnostics for assessing team effectiveness, group discussions, video case studies, simulations, and real-life examples of best team leadership practices. Each participant will leave the program with a personalized action plan that can be implemented immediately to enhance their team’s performance.

DAY 1
• Why is team leadership more important - and more challenging - today than ever before?
• Why do some teams achieve extraordinary results while other teams muddle through?
• What are some common myths about team leadership and why don’t they work?
• Understanding the roles team leaders must take on to create a high-performing team: visionary, designer, decision-manager, coach, negotiator, coalition builder, and ambassador
• SIMULATION: Team decision-making
• CASE STUDIES: Creating and communicating a clear, engaging vision that motivates and aligns your team toward common goals
• ASSESSMENTS:
  – Understanding your team’s current and desired performance
  – Assessing how your personal styles, strengths, and weaknesses influence your ability to bring out the best in your teams
  – Designing the team’s work

DAY 2
• Understanding the seven steps for effective team decision-making
• Understanding a step-by-step process for effectively coaching individuals and teams
• Developing and delegating to your team: Knowing when to help your team and when to stay out of your team’s way
• Understanding why externally connected teams get better results
• Understanding the value of high-quality connections in achieving results
• Building your team’s influence
• Self-reflection and developing your personal action plan
• VIDEO CASE STUDY: Avoiding dysfunctional dynamics that undermine effective decision-making
• SIMULATION:
  – Enhancing your negotiation and coalition building skills
  – Effectively leading diverse and virtual teams
• SELF ASSESSMENT:
  – Assessing your coaching style
  – Developing your team’s social capital and networks to achieve better results faster
  – Assessing whether you are an energizer or de-energizer to your teams

REAL IMPACT:

Measurable Return On Investment

One of the United States’ top integrated health delivery systems turned to Michigan Ross to help their leaders link core competencies to customer benefits; improve strategic agility and leadership; measure and drive customer service and satisfaction; and build high-performance teams.

An independent study was conducted to assess the organizational and personal impact of engaging with Michigan Ross. Here is what was found:

- 310% return on program investment
- Significant reduction in key service area wait times
- 25% of participants were promoted within six months of program completion
- 15% improvement in decision-making
- 16% improvement in teamwork
I attended the Leading High Performing Teams program in the middle of a large transformational effort I was leading, which impacted 1500+ individuals at all levels in the organization... I gained both a shift in my overall engagement strategy as well as specific tactical changes I could implement the day I returned for quick successes. I find myself leveraging what I learned from the program all the time and can recognize improvement in my team because of it.
